SURNAME INDEX OF THE ALBUQUERQUE, NEW MEXICO, DAILY CITIZEN – 1888

INTRODUCTION:

The format for this index was developed to cover the major news items appearing in the Daily Citizen newspaper – births, deaths, marriages, interesting items – and mainly to find ancestors who were thought to be in the area. This is an index of the names appearing in the article, and covers only those persons of either New Mexican origin or who participated or appeared in New Mexico. In other words, news articles covering an event occurring outside New Mexico, but involving a New Mexican, are reported here; persons from some other state but participating in an event in New Mexico, also are included. The compiler attempted to include any reference that could possibly lead to finding members of a family or places of birth. A relative visiting from some other state would be included in this index.

There are many newspapers in the state, and they shared news events. Many events and persons from around the state are included in the Albuquerque newspaper. Hotel arrivals in the major Albuquerque hotels were reported almost daily; therefore, an individual's name may appear many times throughout the year, but only a line stating that they were in town. The compiler did not include every report such as this, or the work would have become unmanageable. Many mentions of prominent persons and politicians who were in the news quite often would have made this publication immense, and are not included unless the event could lead to other genealogical research.

FORMAT:

The index begins with the first mention of a person. Subsequent appearances are not indexed unless it changes the original information in some way. For example, _____ HENRY would be noted for date and page first appearing. Later, an article might add that it was HOWARD HENRY, who resided in Albuquerque and was a court stenographer. That item is referenced. Later, if HOWARD W. HENRY, a court stenographer from Albuquerque, visited his parents in Dodge City, Kansas, that item is also referenced. A short sentence stating that "Mr. Henry, the court stenographer, went to Santa Fe today" is not indexed for there were many of this kind of item. If there wasn't much happening, the compiler indexed other dates that show some tidbit of information about the person.

In an effort to aid identification, the compiler has included the apparent residence of the party and the indicated occupation. Users are cautioned to check the source data and make these determinations for themselves, as there may be some unintended error in interpretation.

The microfilm containing this newspaper is on file at the Special Collections Branch of the Albuquerque Public Library, 423 Central Avenue NE, Albuquerque, New Mexico 87102 (Phone 505-848-1376).

Many of the towns had long names and space was limited in printout for that word. I have taken the liberty of abbreviating some town or village names, and a list of these appear in this preface.

CAVEAT:

Almost all papers were improperly microfilmed. Often a day might be incomplete and then the complete issue would appear intermixed with a later date. If a name is indexed on a particular and the microfilmed page is virtually blank, browse to the next few frames and that page may be copied again and there it is readable. Check a few frames before and after to make sure the pages are in order and the issue is complete.

FURTHER AIDS TO RESEARCH:

MAP: In an effort to help locate the many small towns, now ghost towns, listed as homes of our ancestors, I have prepared a map showing the approximate location of many of the towns in New Mexico in 1888. I hope you find it useful.

THE FOLLOWING APPEARED IN THE CORRY'S NEW MEXICO
GAZETTEER AND BUSINESS DIRECTORY FOR ALBUQUERQUE, 1892

It was printed by George W. Crane & Company, Printers and Binders, 1892, Topeka, Kansas, and is endorsed on the inside as "PROPERTY OF THE ELKS CLUB." It is copied here as an item of interest and a little view to what Albuquerque was like at that time.

" CITY OF ALBUQUERQUE

"ALBUQUERQUE – PAST, PRESENT, FUTURE

"Governor Prince has spoken wisely, patriotically and well for New Mexico, and now I am asked to say something of the busy, bustling metropolis of that Territory. This one, departing from the usual custom, will be a plain, simple, unostentatious statement of facts; it's object will be to give a passing glimpse at Albuquerque as she has been, a hasty look at her as she is, and a little view of her as conservative men predict she will be.

"Albuquerque, like many towns of the new Southwest, is dual in its parts – one part being old, one new. Founded two hundred years ago, old Albuquerque is a city of historic interest. Built in all the primitive simplicity of that time, the houses, stores and churches still remain to attest the imperishability of the architecture of the seventeenth century. Constructed of adobe, they are long, broad, low, flat-roofed, irregularly formed, and unsightly. In them is presented the aboriginal civilization of the Pueblos, combined with the generous hospitality of their Mexican successors. Innate in the Spanish-American, were wanting most of the elements of progress. Contact with the outer world, with another civilization, was needed to rouse them from their lethargy and inactivity. Thus things remained, apparently changeless, and certainly unchanged, until the dawning of the year 1880. Then the far-famed springs of Las Vegas, and the midsummer charms of sleepy old Santa Fe, could no longer check the westward-bound emigrants. Farther into the trackless waste they pressed their way, to find an oasis at Albuquerque, and start a town-plot of their own. Indians, centipedes and tarantulas came also, and camped with them on their chosen town-site. More people came, and with them more trouble. The horse-thief, an offspring of Western civilization, began to decorate the limbs of the larger trees along the river bank; and soon the iron horse of the Santa Fe had stolen clear away across the continent to Los Angeles. Then prosperity dawned upon the village, and what the tax-collector overlooked went into the tills of the whiskey-seller, or enlarged the plethoric purse of the faro-dealer. This was the normal condition of a Western town, and the future city began to grow. She began with a vaulting ambition, and she still vaults and shakes her Sampsonian locks at all her vanquished rivals. She began by wanting everything in sight, and she still wants the earth. Albuquerque, energetic, enterprising and ambitious, is here, and, having many of the resources that make a great city, stands to-day on the threshold of a splendid development.

"The stability of the banks of a city, together with the volume of business transacted by them, is a sure index to the degree of prosperity that city has attained. In this city are four banks having a larger capital and doing more business than those of any adjacent city of New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado, or Texas. The largest wholesale establishments of the new Southwest are located here, supplying goods and merchandise east and south to Texas, and west to the borders of the Golden State. She has the established basis of a fine school system. Her four ward school buildings have cost $60,000, and the building and equipment of our Territorial University has cost a much larger sum. The Sister's select school and an academy furnish splendid opportunities for the special, careful training of boys and girls. The free city library, containing thousands of the latest and best publications is a fitting supplement to her thorough educational facility. She has a dozen ministers to preach Christianity, a dozen doctors to prescribe soporifics – though they are rarely needed – the same number of editors and quasi editors to advocate everything under the sun, and twice as many lawyers to assist in warping the construction of statutes. We have the most sunshine, the purest air, the prettiest babies, the brightest-eyed boys and girls, the manliest men and the handsomest, womanly women for any city on the globe. Albuquerque's machine shops, together with two iron and brass foundries, employs five hundred men. She manufactures flour, false teeth, farm implements, notaries public, iron castings, candidates for office, blank books, filagree (sic) jewelry, beer, confectionery, legal opinions, bricks, railroad passes, public opinion, and members of Congress. Her two railroads belong to the best system in the world, and carry us to Texas, Old Mexico, Los Angeles, Chicago and St. Louis without changing lines. Her retail merchants have the trade throughout a radius of fifty miles, and in some directions, for double that distance. The new town and the old are joined together by a street railway, and two miles electric road now being constructed will connect the Territorial University with the temple of justice. Her hotels are modern, home-like, the best. Yet, bustling with life and activity as Albuquerque now is, she needs many things, and knows it. She wants many thing, and will have them. Among these might be mentioned people to manufacture a thousand articles now made elsewhere.

“Her Commercial Club, composed of the leading men of the city, of all trades and professions, occupying a building furnished and costing more than $60,000, will be one of the main spokes in the wheel of her future progress. All business enterprises worthy of support meet with its generous commendation and approval. These men are the leaders in all public enterprises, backed as a unity by all the inhabitants of the city. They have implicit confidence in the future of the city; they invest their money in the city, and pledge their credit for the city. Theirs is as united as a one-man power, and pledged to the security and perpetuity of Albuquerque as the now (sic) metropolis and future great city of the magnificent mining, agricultural and manufacturing district of the soon-to-be-developed new Southwest.

“Located in the center of one of the richest mining districts in the United States, iron, copper, silver and gold lying in the bosom of Mother Earth all around her, together with coal in unlimited quantities furnishing the motive power to put in operation machinery for its reduction, so that all that is required for the erection of large ore-reducing works here is far-seeing, enterprising men with capital – when such opportunities become widely known, the men to take advantage of them are not long looked for in vain. The day is not far distant when lines of railway will tap the rich mineral deposits of New Mexico, and, centering in Albuquerque, carry here the rich diamonds of nature in the rough to be changed into useful form by our smelters. Several railway lines are even now projected, and ere the coming of another new year they will be built. This must be so, for no man in Albuquerque dares to deny it.

“Located in the center of a vast wool-growing region, we import our woolens from Boston and the cities of the Atlantic seaboard. Some day our woolen mills will turn out blankets, shawls, flannels, yarns and other woolen fabrics in quantities sufficient to equal the demands of all the adjacent county. The rich alluvial river-bottom lands are rapidly being turned into orchards and vineyards. From them this city will soon be exporting to the markets of the East walnuts, in quality unsurpassed and quantities abundant.

“As a health resort New Mexico is fast becoming justly famous. The altitude and climatic conditions of Albuquerque are perhaps the most favorable of any of its cities for the permanent relief of pulmonary troubles. Medical men from the East will soon erect a magnificent sanitarium here, together with many small, conveniently-arranged cottages, where consumptives may prolong life and enjoy the blessings of health, surrounded by all the luxuries of life possible, in the most perfect clime of the world.

“The native forests of pine surrounding us on all sides bring to our doors the material for the building of a magnificent city. The innate energy, acquired business ability and proverbial pluck and push of the average Albuquerquean are an absolute guaranty that the city will be built. But yesterday Albuquerque was a collection of mud cabins; to-day it is the enterprising metropolis of the Territory; to-morrow it will be a city where wealth, beauty and refinement will be reflected in her handsome business blocks, and love, as law, will reign supreme in her beautiful homes. The metropolis of the State of New Mexico, after sitting on the Fifty-Second Congress, she will do honor to the forty-fifth star set in the field of the red, white, and blue. No peer within a radius of 400 miles. Selkirk-like she is monarch of all she surveys.”
